Explanation for the Registration

Inability to work

A person counts as not fully fit for work when – at the inception date – he/she:

- Is not able to work on health grounds,
- Receives daily allowances on sickness or accident grounds,
- Already claimed a disability pension or daily allowances at an insurance,
- Receives daily allowances or a disability pension,
- Cannot be fully employed in a post corresponding to his or her qualifications on sickness grounds.

Health declaration

The „health declaration“ has to be filled in unrequested by persons which are not fully fit for work according to the description above. Furthermore, the reinsurer subsequently demands the form "health declaration" if the initially specified or increased insured benefits exceed the contractually defined limits. The definitive admission of persons that required to fill in the health declaration-form can additionally be made conditional on the information obtained from a physician or a medical examination that may be requested. The resulting costs are borne by the reinsurer.

Insurance cover

The insurance cover is definitive for every person that does not have to fill in the “self-disclosure form“. For all other persons the insurance cover is provisional. The insurance informs – in written form – whether and to what extent the definitive insurance cover is granted.

When the provisional insurance cover is provided to you, the reinsurer will provide the benefits in an insurance case if the pension case cannot be traced back to a cause (accident, illness, infirmity) which existed before the beginning of the provisional insurance cover.
